

ABSTRACT

A power integrated local area network, such as an Ethernet network, is disclosed. The network comprises: a plurality of member network devices; and a central network device configured to communicate with the plurality of member
5 network devices, and to deliver power, from energy stored in an electrochemical power source, to at least one selected member network device that is capable of accepting power from the central network device.

10
15
20
25
30
35
40
45
50
55
60
65
70
75
80
85
90
95
100